

THE GOOD WORK.

Activity Among the People of the Whole Country.

Warm Times in Texas—Gen. Weaver Expresses Great Confidence in the Result—Nebraska and Other States Alive to Their True Interests.

The Texas Campaign.

Judge Nugent, people's party nominee for governor of Texas, formally opened the campaign at Austin with a ringing speech, which was listened to by a large audience. He prefaced his remarks with the memorable words of Gen. Grant, "Let us have peace," and declared if the politicians could have been quieted this patriotic expectation would have long since been realized. "Great men," Judge Nugent said, "never lead the old parties, because great men are men of soul, of humanity, of genius, of inspiration. They never are machine men. Labor is in chains while the politicians are skurrying over the country repeating political platitudes, holding up tariff schedules in one hand and the bloody shirt in the other, vainly endeavoring to head off the moving column of reform as it advances to victory." He asked, "What does Wall street care for the tariff question so long as she controls the finances? With even free trade, control of the money of the country would give her control of wages of usury, of the property and the labor of the country. What more could she have under protection? The judge's speech was frequently applauded, and although he held his audience for some time, the enthusiasm was greater at the close than when he commenced.

Gen. Weaver Sangate.

Gen. Weaver arrived at St. Louis recently after his four weeks' tour of the far west. To a reporter Gen. Weaver said: "I have been through Colorado, Nevada, Wyoming, Montana, Idaho, Washington, Oregon and California. I am as confident of carrying each and every one of those states as that the election occurs. I am more impressed than ever before that an ominous spirit of unrest is abroad in the land. The people know there is something terribly wrong, and in sheer desperation they are turning from the corrupt old parties to ours for relief. I never saw such crowds in my life as greeted me at every one of my stopping places. I have spoken to acre after acre of people, and all along my route of 8,000 miles the stations were crowded with visitors to cheer me on. After reference to the manager reports given from these states by the representatives of the Associated Press, Gen. Weaver continued: "I am no rainbow chaser—I never was in my life. But you mark my words now, and report me correctly. The electoral votes of the eight western states I have named will be cast for me. Why, in Nevada only one electoral ticket is in the field. Four out of five votes in Colorado will be cast for me. California is as sure as Nevada, and I have just received a letter from Gov. Penney assuring me that Oregon is absolutely safe. There is no doubt in the world as to the result in Wyoming, Washington, Montana and Idaho. These states, you see, will give me an aggregate electoral vote of 30." Gen. Weaver left soon after for a tour of the southern states.

Nebraska Warming Up.

All advices from Nebraska indicate a sweeping populist victory in November. The nomination for Gen. Van Wyck for governor has visibly strengthened the national ticket and aroused a high degree of enthusiasm and confidence that is certain to lead on to success. The issue is one purely of principle, and is simply this: Shall the people or the corporations rule Nebraska?

All For Weaver.

A prominent business man of Rushfield, Neb., recently returned from the west, was asked by a reporter how the mountain states were for the people's party, and replied: "They are all right for the people's party. Nineteenth of the miners of Colorado and other extreme western states are now organized into people's party clubs. In the city of Aspen, Col., there are none but Weaver men to be found. All the hotels have their windows labeled, 'Our Candidates,' and written under that 'Weaver and Field.' It was reported in Denver that papers supporting Harrison had to be sent out free to get people to read them." He spoke equally as encouragingly of California, Nevada and Oregon.

Nebraska Enthusiasm.

The people's party held a monster meeting in a grove near York, Neb., and it was estimated that from 3,000 to 5,000 people attended. Gen. Van Wyck spoke in the forenoon and Green, of Kearney, in the afternoon. There were four of the state candidates present; and W. N. Thompson spoke in the court house in the evening.

Potatoes and Politics.

The Weaver sentiment at Monument, Col., the end of republican El Paso county, is gaining considerable strength. Potato growing is the leading industry in that section, and the farmers are at last realizing the fact that "no silver mining, no potato market." Hence the sentiment is much stronger among the farmers than in the town, but in the town the silver question is bearing fruit and Weaver is gaining ground.

The Young Men in Line.

The young men of Denver have formed a silver club with a large membership which is being added to rapidly. The emblem of a silver dollar, with the motto "In hoc signo vinces," is now worn by hundreds of the brightest of Denver's young men. They are all for Weaver and Field.

South Carolina in Line.

At the recent primaries in South Carolina the people's party swept the state by over 10,000 majority. Nearly all the old congressmen were retired. Gov. Tillman is still ahead in the Palmetto state. Now for November.

Sees His Traducers.

Gen. Van Wyck, people's party candidate for governor of Nebraska, has written an open letter in which he scores those newspapers which have been traducing him. He denies the charge that he is a millionaire or the one-tenth of a millionaire. He refutes the malicious charges that he is interested in railroads by declaring: "I do not now, or have I ever owned a dollar in railroad stocks or bonds. I do not now own stock in the bank, although some twenty years ago I owned stock in a national bank which, by the wrecking of the bank was lost and more, because an assessment of an amount equal to the stock was collected—rather an expensive experience. Some eight or ten years ago was organized the Farmers' bank of Nebraska City. I was solicited to subscribe and did subscribe about $500 which about two years ago I agreed to sell, and did in fact sell. Neither do I own any stock or bonds in any corporation or partnership, syndicate, trust or any species of consolidated property, except that a year ago or more, to help secure an enterprise for the benefit of Nebraska City, I did subscribe to the starch factory some trust funds then in my hands. The investment has as yet paid no interest." To the charge that he built a castle in Washington Gen. Van Wyck produces the figures to show that it is malicious and false and heads "why do the railroads fight me so bitterly, if as you sometimes profess, my relations are so warm, and I receive favors at their hands?"

A Challenge.

The people's party executive committee of the Fifth Nebraska district recently sent the following challenge to the republican committee of the same district: "Believing that W. E. Andrews, the republican candidate for congress in the Fifth congressional district, is trying to secure his election by advocating principles that are detrimental to the interests of the people in this state and district, we hereby challenge Mr. Andrews to meet Hon. W. A. McKelghan, the people's party candidate for congress in said district, in a joint discussion of the political issues of the day at not less than six of the principal cities of the district. If you should conclude to accept this challenge the dates could be arranged between us as to time and place."

A Daisy Postmaster.

The postmaster at Goldsborough, N. C., is of course a republican. The other day he had Dr. Exrum, people's party candidate for governor, arrested upon the charge of using profane language in the post office in the presence of ladies. That postmaster is a daisy. He should be exhibited with grandpa's hat.

The True Ring.

The people's party of Arapahoe county, Col., met at Denver and put a full ticket in the field. Resolutions were adopted heartily approving the national platform of the people's party adopted at Omaha, and the platform of the people's party adopted at the state conventions held in 1892 at Pueblo and Denver, and pledging earnest support to Weaver and Field.

The People of Two States Meet.

The people's party lately held a two day's picnic in Norton county, Kan., near the Nebraska line. Hon. Charles H. Moody, of Jewell county, Kan., Hon. George E. Smith, populist candidate for state senator, and Mr. Close, candidate for senator from the adjoining Nebraska district, were the principal speakers. Great enthusiasm was manifested and the speakers were loudly applauded. The names of Weaver and Field were always met with prolonged cheering.

Will Get the Labor Vote.

A writer to the Denver News from Durango, Col., declares that Weaver will get ninety per cent. of the labor vote in his section. "A great many corporations and others," he says, "put laboring men down for fools, but my experience with them has been that the majority of them have plenty of good horse sense; that is why they will vote for Weaver and free silver."

Mississippi Moving.

An adjourned meeting of the people's party delegates was held at Holly Springs, Miss., August 30 to nominate a candidate for congress from the Second district. Gen. A. M. West, of Marshall county, was unanimously chosen, but declined to run. Gen. West appears to be in sympathy with the party, and at a former meeting urged them to make a nomination. He has some reputation in national politics, having been a candidate for vice president on the greenback ticket with Gen. Butler in 1880. The convention nominated Dr. R. J. Lyles, of Marshall.

Heading the Lion.

The national executive committee of the people's party has decided that eastern headquarters shall be opened immediately in Boston. It has also resolved to put a full state ticket in each of the following states: Maine, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York and Maryland. Plans for an aggressive campaign in each of these states were mapped out.

Old Parties Surprised.

There was an immense mass meeting of populists at Crode, Col., on August 29, which astonished the adherents of both the old parties. David H. Waite, people's party candidate for governor, made a telling speech. Eugene Engley, candidate for attorney general, dissected the records of both old parties in a manner that met with approval and enthusiastic cheers.

Senator Peffer's Opinion.

Senator Peffer, of Kansas, was recently on a visit to his old home in Monmouth, Ill. In an interview he expressed the utmost confidence in the final triumph of the people's party. He thinks it probable that they can carry enough states this fall to throw the election of president into the house, and is positive of sweeping the country in 1896.

Refused to Serve.

At the late republican primaries in Lake county, Col., not half the polling places were opened, the parties selected to sit as judges refusing to serve. The people are for Weaver.
